

EJC Solutions offers new Web Hosting

Contributed by EJC Solutions
Wednesday, 25 January 2006

EJC Solutions is proud to offer new web hosting plans on a new system. The new hosting service will enhance any website through the new interface and available software available to install with one click. From personal sites to business sites, the new server is surely better. I will be working with each existing client on the old server to migrate their domain over with little to no interruption in email / web site availability. More information to come.